

Some People Say

Justin McCarthy's new book is historical rather than fictitious, and that it is not difficult to see in his hero a political celebrity.

JUSTIN McCARTHY'S NEW STORY--SUNDAY WORLD'S FICTION SUPPLEMENT.

LAST EDITION.

ICE-LOCKED HARBOR.

Navigation Seriously Interfered with by the Floes.

The Erastus Wiman Disabled Off Liberty Island.

Thirty-ninth Street (Brooklyn) Ferry Completely Tied Up.

Another big snowstorm is on its way from the Mississippi Valley.

Forecasted Durst says it will arrive in New York City late-to-night or to-morrow morning.

The storm's precursors will be fog and perhaps rain.

The ice giant again closed his grasp on the harbor this morning and held in his embrace various vessels that struggled to pass through the ice floes.

Much trouble was experienced yesterday, but nothing like the condition of things that prevailed this morning at the slack of the tide.

Ice came down the North River on the ebb tide at an early hour. It continued to pour down in increasing quantities, and passed down the upper bay to the lower bay and out to Sandy Hook.

The ice was driven over near Brooklyn and Long Island shore. At 7:30 o'clock the tide was slack and the ice became stationary in the harbor, the downcomer sheet from the North River jamming against the mass in the bay.

The ice jam extended through the East River, and one solid block stretched from shore to shore. All ferry slips were jammed, and the passengers struggled to force their way either in or out.

The North River ferries suffered a little less than those on the East River. The greatest damage was to the St. George at A. M., when she ran aground on Whitehall street, but she finally managed to get into the stream opposite the burgo gates. The ice was there shored up by a large amount of broken ice.

She therefore declares that her husband is not a proper person to have the care of so tender a child, and incurred a writ of habeas corpus for the production of the little fellow in court to-day.

Justice Beach sits upon the disappearing Demon.

Justice Beach, in Supreme Court, chambers, to-day, in very emphatic language declared that Mrs. Rose Moss was entitled to see her child, Charles G. Moss, aged four and a half years, whom she has not seen for six months.

Mrs. Moss is the wife of Charles Moss, who is known on the stageone of the "Brothers Persian" disappearing demons. He is known for an absolute divorce upon the ground of infidelity. She not only denies his accusations, but declares that she is entitled to the divorce, as she asserts that her husband has been guilty of improper conduct with another woman.

She therefore declares that her husband is not a proper person to have the care of so tender a child, and incurred a writ of habeas corpus for the production of the little fellow in court to-day.

Justice Beach granted a postponement of the hearing, however, to prepare the papers in the case, when Mr. Morrissey objected to the mother seeing the child meantime on the ground that she was not a proper person to have the care of so tender a child.

"That other shall see her child. I don't care how she is living. The fact that her husband does not care for her to see it makes no difference. The court shall not be carried to any such extent. She must see the child in the mean time."

Mrs. Moss was taken into another part of the room, stripped short, disabled, and blew her whistles as she screamed.

The nature of her accident was not known on shore, but it was seen to be serious. A tug came to her assistance and tried to tow her off.

Another tug came and tugged on, but they could not get her out of the icy prison. She had about two hundred passengers on board, slowly worked along. She steadily stopped short, disabled, and blew her whistles as she screamed.

The nature of her accident was not known on shore, but it was seen to be serious. A tug came to her assistance and tried to tow her off.

The tugs passed over in a hurry, and when all had got on the Northfield, they set up a cheer that could be heard over on the Battery, and a crowd of spectators watched the strange scene.

The Northfield took the passengers to St. George, and the Wiman to the Battery. The Northfield, while making her way through the ice had one of her rudder chocks broken, and went to the south Brooklyn Avenue street ferry to south Brooklyn, at the foot of Whitehall street, abandoned all attempts to run. The Brooklyn Shore was packed solidly with ice.
